The Performance Data Sheet is recommended to compare the capabilities of this unit with your actual drinking water needs. This system is your final barrier of protection against unknown contaminants which may be affecting your water supply.

Water Testing: There are two testing methods; If you are able to see, touch, smell or taste something in the water, there is an aesthetic problem. If you believe there are more problems that do not trigger your senses, potential volatile organic chemicals, chlorinated, chloraminated by-products, or lead contamination, professional testing may be necessary. Water testing can be very complicated. A complete analysis of hundreds of contaminant's that may be in water will cost hundreds to thousands of dollars. An alternate test is to have your water tested only for common water contaminant's, or for contaminant's you have read about or know are likely to be in your water. Note: Since contaminant levels can vary from day to day and week to week. Taking a specific sample at any given time may yield a falsely good (or bad) Result.

Private water supply: Having your water tested may be your only way of knowing what health related contaminant's may be present. Local health departments only test for a limited range of contaminant's like bacteria to approve wells for potable water.

Public Water supply: Guidelines and laws set by the government do not cover every known contaminant that may be affecting your water source. Also, additives may be added to your water that you may not want. Your SemperClear™ filter can remove most of these potential contaminants.
